Representative Of United Press Praises The News

Frank H. Bartholomew, business representative for the United Press in the Southwest Division, spent Wednesday in Mexia with The Mexia Daily News. He was here about a year ago, when The News was located in smaller quarters on Commerce street.

The Southwest division is composed of seven states and headquarters are maintained at Kansas City.

Mr. Bartholomew expressed amazement and pleasure because of the advancement and progress reflected by The Mexia Daily News and by the city of Mexia as well.

He stated that it was his opinion that The Mexia Daily News had developed into the splendid newspaper which it now is with a greater rapidity than any newspaper in the seven states which he covers.

The day was spent studying the press service needs of the News and the result of the conference was a decision that The Mexia Daily News is now getting the very best service available under the conditions and circumstances that prevail.

The United Press is serving newspapers in practically every city in Texas. Its patrons among the afternoon newspapers of the state outnumber any other two press services available in Texas. It is constantly proving in the quality of its service, expanding in its patronage and in The United Press leads all. It serves The Mexia Daily News.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

The following editorial was clipped by Cox W. Brodnax, and handed in to the office of the Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber of Commerce does not know its source, but it is said that the Mexia Textile Mills proposition is being kept alive and the mill will be an actuality before the year 1923 closes.

Texas and Its Factories

There is every reason in the world why Texas should turn to manufacturing—not exclusively.

No country has ever remained a dominant factor in world affairs that hasn't developed manufacturing.

In fact, left to a horizontal course, that country is securest that takes manufacturing as her one hoby—even if she must buy every ingredient that goes into the process of manufacturing.

Garet Garrett, writing in Saturday Evening Post on the Ruhr situation, said that "An industrious engenius people, though they have to buy all their raw material, even their food, may still prosper by exporting the products of high technical skill."

But we have found today that the horizontal process of business is hurting us. No longer should we have institutions organized about just raw materials, or finished products; but we should begin that newer and safer course of developing our industries vertically; that is. we should begin with the raw material, say cotton, and not turn it loose until it is in the hands of the distributors. The Ford industry is a splendid example of the vertical process.

What Texas needs is that new approach to business which will organize her industries on a basis of commodities, and then stay with that commodity until it is manufactured into the finished product and ready for the consumer.

Her cotton, her wheat, her cattle, her hogs, her wool, her corn—all her endless raw materials should go to Texas factories and there be prepared for the markets of the world—the markets of finished products. Every coal mine, every river, every available or potential source of power should be harnessed and our peoples should hold on to their raw materials until they are manufactured into the finished products. This would give us that economic empire which would build for permanency and power.

Chambers of Commerce, you have been cajoled to busy yourselves with the little things, and not to try the "big" things, such as a factory, or other city-sized tasks. Let us insist that ten years spent in the chase of a factory that ends in landing the factory is worth more to your town than ten years of picnics, barbecues, swell dinners, street lights, etc.

Let the Chambers of Commerce make this slogan their slogan: "Factories in Texas."

Wild Horses Loose In Arizona Prairies

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 21.—Half a dozen bands of wild horses stampeded the prairies near here today, driving cattle from grazing lands.

Headed by fiery stallions, hordes of horses and burros were reported driving cattle to the mountains.

One herd of 1,000 mustangs invaded the Coconimo national forest. Another, numbering 400, was roving Apache county Several more were driving cattle and sheep out of the Tail Holt mountains.

Wild burros, shaggy from years of exposure to summer heat and winter storms, abound by hundreds in the mountains near here

Stockmen here have organized to demand State aid in financing a campaign to wipe out the wild herds.

Corn on the cob is now a favorite dish on Mexia tables The Roasting Ear crop is rapidly coming to town from fields that look exceptionally good, considering the dry weather.

C. P. Tindley will leave for the Luling field tonight.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok, June 21.—Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn, deposed head of Amherst College, may be considered as presidential timber in the search for State University presidential timber, it was indicated here today.

The board of regents is conducting a nation wide search for a conservative educator to succeed Dr. Stratton D. Brooks, resigned, and president-elect of Missouri University, it was stated.

No definite action will be taken for some time, it was indicated.

The Mexia Shrine club will be present in large numbers from the entire section at the Chicken Feast at the Play-grounds Friday evening.

NEW TRIPLE ALLIANCE RUMORED

Adolph Joffe Baron Goto

A new triple alliance of Russia, Japan and Germany is regarded by shrewd observers as a possible outcome of a preliminary official conference to which the Japanese Government will invite Commissioner Adolph Joffe, who was head of the Russian delegation to the Russian-Polish peace conference at Riga and who is Foreign Plenipotentiary of the Russian Soviet Government. Japanese leaders, it is said, are building politically for the future in their negotiations with Russia and Germany. The decision of the Japanese Cabinet to confer with Joffe is regarded as a victory for Baron Shumpei Goto, former Mayor of Tokio, who resigned that office in order to urge an economic conference and agreement with the Soviet.

American Red Cross Restores Roses to Cheeks of Children Who Were Once Doomed to Die

They are not prize-winning children, perhaps, judged by American standards, but their mothers are proud of them and proud of the fact that they are being photographed by an American Red Cross worker in Seres. Seres is in Macedonia and the children are only a few of the refugees who are housed in the flimsy barracks there and fed by the American Red Cross.

It is doubtful if there would be any youngsters visible were it not that America had come to the rescue and sent to Greece great quantities of American milk. It's the milk that makes the little boys' legs look so chubby and gives the little girls their plump cheeks.

And it isn't in Seres alone, but all through Greece and the islands that dot the Aegean, that babies' lives have been saved and mothers have been made to smile again, not by twos and threes but by thousands and by tens of thousands. During the winter and early spring the American Red Cross was feeding in Greece no less than 500,000 refugees from Anatolia and Eastern Thrace, mostly women and children. Not all of them would have actually starved without this feeding but in a case like this it is better to err on the side of safety. The older members of the family got such solid food as bread and beans, rice and corn grits, but for the babies there was milk—that was the most highly appreciated gift of all.

The refugees, a million of them all told, came to Greece following the burning of Smyrna and the defeat of the Greek armies last fall. Some of them were able to take care of themselves from the start. Some have since managed to reestablish themselves. It is summer in Greece now. There are vegetables in the gardens and grain is ripening in the fields. The crisis of the emergency has passed. The American Red Cross will end its Greek program on June 30 and in withdrawing will carry back to America the gratitude of the entire Greek nation.

GEYSERS ON THE JOB FOR YELLOWSTONE OPENING

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., June 21.—With the official opening of Yellowstone National Park today, intense activity in the Norris Geyser Basin is reported by rangers. This activiey has culminated in the appearance of a new geyser. Recently this new geyser has been erupting to a height of 75 feet, and there are indications that it may continue to erupt indefinitely at intervals of about twelve hours Its eruptions are followed by great steam displays and loud roaring

The Crator Geyser, sometimes called the Mud Geyser, also of recent origin has been very active during the winter and has enlarged its crater.

During the spring rangers have been taking note of the famous Semi-Centennial Geyser, fifteen miles south of Mammoth Hot Springs in the Roaring Mountain region, which first erupted with extraordinary violence on August 14, 1922. This Geyser is still inactive and it is uncertain whether it will erupt again this year.

In the great Upper Basin where there are more geysers than in all the rest of the world, Old Faithful, Grand, Riverside and other tourists' favorites are performing in their usual wonderful fashion.

Thrashers are busy in the county on the oat crop of the year. A machine was at June Cogdell's this week. The farmers are in dire need of rain according to late reports. City Manager George Perkins also states that the dry weather is a handicap to the paving company, especially in setting forms for the curbs. Mr. Perkins is abel to be out this week, despite the heat, after an attack of appendicitis which got him down last week.

F. J. Crabtree of Midlothian who has been attending S. M. U. the past year was visiting in Mexia today. He left on the afernoon train for his home. Next school session, Mr. Crabtree expects to enter the School of Journalism in the University of Texas and will receive his degree there.

Savannah Is Now under Martial Law

SAVANNAH, Ga, June 21.—Under control of a strict military government, Savannah was quiet today following rioting in which one was killed. The clashes started Tuesday night when a mob attempted to secure a negro, arrested on charges of attacking a white woman, from custoday of jail officials.

Every road leading to the city is guarded by armed militiamen. Soldiers with fixed bayonets patrol the section around the pail.

Temporary breastworks, surmounted by machine guns, are in place.

Walter Lee, the accused negro, was positively identified by his victim. He was picked by the woman from a group of half dozen suspects.

Germany Protests against Severe Measure in Ruhr

By Carl D. [illegible]
By CARL D. GROAT.
United Perss Staff Correspondent.

BERLIN, June 21.—Germany today sent a protest to the allies against severe measures of repression instituted by the Fernch in the Ruhr valley.

The German protest followed announcement from Dusseldorf that General De Coutte and other French and Belgian authorities are working out a scheme whereby all industries in the invaded areas turning out reparations material will be confiscated and worked by forced labor. Iron and steel plants, metal works, mines, coke ovens and other private industries are to be seized under the scheme and Germans forced to work them or go to jail.

Mrs. Wilmer Hamilton entertained a number of her griends with a most delightful all day picnic on Tuesday at the Reunion Grounds. Every detail that would lend to the enjoyment of such an occasion was carried out.

LADY JUMPS FROM MOVING CAR WITH BABY IN HER ARMS

Last night while returning from the Reunion Grounds, about eleven o'clock, a party of young folks met a car from which a woman had attempted to alight, holding a babe in her arms. Her husband was accompanying her in the automobile and it seems that she feared an accident and jumped from the auto while it was in motion. The baby was uninjured but the lady suffered minor injuries. She was carried to Brown's horspital where she is being treated today.

Henry Ford, having become a coal baron, a railroad owner, a maker of automobiles, trucks annd tractors, a water power developer, a publisher, also farmer, is now about to go into the textile field and manufacture all fabrics used in the manufacture of automobiles, but the best news to the oil people in general, not including the Standard oil group, is that Henry Ford, Ford Motor Company, are scouting the oil fields for samples of oil, which is being sent to the Ford engineering laboratory at Detroit, Mich. The Ford Motor Company is investigating the oil business with the fact in view of producing, transporting, refining and marketing gasoline, motor, cylinder and lubricating oils of a higher and better quality than the Standard oil and subsidary companies. Motor cars used 5300 million of 5961 million gollons of gasoline consumed in the United States in 1922—441 gallons to the car.

TEAGUE T. & B. V. SHOPS DOUBLED

TEAGUE, June 21.—From authoritative sources it is learned that the forces in the car department of the Trinity & Brazos Valley Railway company shops at Teague are being more than doubled. Since the strike of the railway shop crafts last year the forces have been greatly decreased, but the additional men now being employed will insure a long period of full time work for a number of men in addition to the regular force. There are said to be 800 cars in need of repair in the Teague yards.

"Come Over Into Macedonia And Help Us," Echo of Age-Old Cry, Answered by American Red Cross

The old cry, "Come over into Macedonia and help us," voiced in the days of St. Paul, had an echo last year when refugees from Eastern Thrace poured across the Macedonian border, helpless, homeless, sick and facing death from cold and hunger. That the cry was not unheeded these pictures, of barges laden with bales of blankets bound Macedonianward from the Piraeus and this typical youngster hugging the precious can of milk, a gift of the American Red Cross, clearly testify.

What they can not show, however, is the magnitude of the American effort and the highly beneficient results attained by the Red Cross workers in meeting the emergency not only in Macedonia but in the whole Grecian peninsula and the dozens of scattered islands of the Aegean and Ionian seas.

Measured in cash merely, the cost of America's contribution through its national organization for disaster and emergency relief, the American Red Cross, was $2,600,000. With that sum half a million refugees were fed, not occasionally, but day in and day out for months, hospitals were opened, equipped, and supervised by American doctors and American nurses, blankets were distributed, and clothing, milk for the babies born in the turmoil of the great hegira and for their mothers, weakened by the hardships of their enforced wanderings.

It is hard to estimate what this help meant to Greece. One can only cite examples here and there, taking the word of the Greeks themselves. "On the day before the arrival of the first Red Cross shipments of food products ten refugees died from starvation here. Without the American aid this situation would have continued. Since the arrival of the first American Red Cross products there have been no deaths from starvation." (In this case "here" is the city of Aigion where there were 8,500 refugees being fed, and not only fed but clothed, for the report continues:) "Before the distribution of American Red Cross blankets many refugees were lying on the cold, bare, dirt floors of buildings in which they had been quartered. As a result there was much pneumonia and rheumatism. The American Red Cross was able to supply enough blankets to every one of these ground-sleepers to afford them sufficient covering and the illness due to colds decreased rapidly."

From other towns come reports of typhus and smallpox threatening to become epidemic but checked by prompt disinfection of refugees and by extensive vaccination campaigns, of sanitary measures enforced, of infant welfare stations opened, of American health ideals inculcated in people whose lack of knowledge of the simplest principles of hygiene rendered their very presence a deadly menace to the cities in which they had crowded themselves.

From the very day of the destruction of Smyrna last September the American Red Cross has worked unceasingly in combatting the effects of the wave of a million refugees which swept over Greece, as an aftermath of that disaster and the catastrophic defeat of Greek arms. It met the emergency as an emergency. It does not propose that those it has aided should be pauperized and become a permanent burden upon American charity. Therefore, its emergency relief program will be brought to a close on June 30. By that time the gardens of Greece will be yielding their increase, the harvest will be ripe for the sickle and another chapter in the history of American philanthropy will end.

"SCHOOL FOR CONGRESS" PLANNED.

Senator William H King

Some ironical individuals will say it is needed, but Senator William H. King, Democrat, of Utah, had a different idea in mind in announcing a "Summer School" for members of Congress, in Russia, in July. King, with Senator Ladd, Republican, of North Dakota, and Representative Frear, Republican, of Wisconsin, will leave in another six weeks to open the school, the object of which is to obtain first-hand information on the Soviet method of government and business. All ther Senators and Congressmen have been invited to enroll.

Four Goose Creek Men Go To Jail Contempt of Court

HOUSTON, Texas, June 21.—Four men, residents of Goose Creek, were given jail sentences and fines of $100 each and start their terms this afternoon. They were sentenced for refusing to answer questions in connection with the grand jury investigation into masked floggings in Harris county.

MARLIN WINS HARD FOUGHT BALL GAME

The Marlin Bathers won a hard fought game from the Gushers yesterday by the score of 2 to 1. Tiner worked fine whiffing 5 of the Bathers while Gressett only whiffed 3. Chatham, centerfielder of the Bathers secured three of the Bathers hits scoring the first and his single in the ninth with Strickland on scored the winning run. Strickland lined out to Geppert who caught the ball a few inches above the ground but it called safe by the Umps and then—there was quite a bit of discussion regarding the Umps' decisions all during the game, and it is understood that a player of each team will umpire today's game.

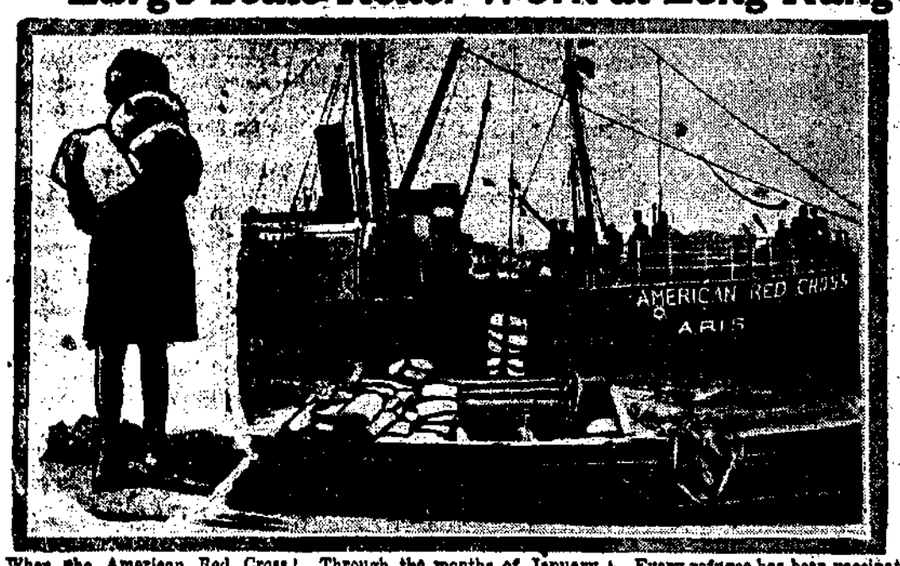
Greek Operation of American Red Cross Is Model of Efficiency For Conduct of Large Scale Relief Work at Long Range



When the American Red Cross withdraws its relief forces from Greece, this summer, it will have established a record for effective emergency relief. Its operations which involved the feeding of 500,000 refugees from Anatolia and Eastern Thrace and the supplying of the medical needs of a million destitute and homeless people are too large to be easily grasped. The photographs above shows the loading of American Red Cross ships at Piraeus for transshipment to Greek Islands, and some of the Red Cross supplies duly delivered to the ultimate consumer.

The scope of the work can be better illustrated by a summary of accomplishments in a particular district, typical of the operation of the relief program throughout the entire Grecian peninsula and the islands surrounding it. Patras district, where American Red Cross work was directed by Henry C. Wolfe of Coshocton, Ohio and the medical activities of the program by Dr. J. C. Dolman of El Paso, Texas, affords such an illustration.

Through the months of January, February, March and April the American Red Cross was feeding, in the Patras District alone, 40,000 refugees and on May 1 that number was increased to 43,000 owing to recent arrivals.

The organization has completely furnished and equipped eight refugee hospitals in the district with a total capacity of 325 beds.

It has opened and is operating three ambulatoria at the towns of Zante, Patras and Argostoli. These ambulatoria treat, on an average, between 400 and 500 refugees daily. Medicines have also been supplied to the smaller refugee centers throughout the district.

Three milk stations for babies are in operation in the towns above mentioned, feeding about 1,000 babies a day.

The typhus epidemic, which threatened to become serious has been brought under control and at the beginning of May there were only a few remaining cases in the district.

Every refugee has been vaccinated and the campaign to inoculate the refugees against typhoid and cholera has been started.

Ten Greek doctors are in the employ of the American Red Cross in the district as well as about 50 nurses and hospital attendants. The medical program has been organized so that it can continue to function after the Americans withdraw.

Twenty-five thousand refugees have been bathed and deloused at the American Red Cross bathing plants and their clothing fumigated.

Ten thousand refugees have been clothed and ten thousand have been supplied with blankets.

Thousands of pamphlets giving advice on how to avoid sickness have been distributed among the refugees of the district and posters dealing with various phases of the sanitary program have been posted in prominent places in the towns and villages.

Camp sanitation has been emphasized and enforced.

Jack Dempsey says that Tommie Gibbons style of fighting will, without a doubt, puzzle him, but he erlieves that he will be able to find a weak spot somewhere.

At present there is little chance of the Texas league having a split season because the four leading clubs are in a range of about two games of each other. Ira Thomas is the only one who would be in favor of a split season as his club isn't going so very good at present.

One of Jacks sparring partners, who visits the champions quarters, and has taken up his work with Tommie, says that Jack hits a lot harder but not as often as Gibbons.

Pancho Villa, the little Filipino, knocked the little Welshman, Jimmie Wilde, for a championship at the Polo Grounds Monday night before a crowd of at least 40,000 people.

Lew Tendler, contender for the lightweight crown held by Benny Leonard, defeated Pal Moran of New Orleans in an eight round bout Monday night at the National League ball park in Philadelphia.

"Snipe" Conley was effective with men on bases and his teamates helped him with 15 solid swats, Dallas winning from Galveston 10 to 2.

With the bases full and only two runs needed to tie the score, Calvo, Fort Worth, center fielder, made a spectacular catch of a low line drive for the last out. Beaumont lost, 6 to 8.

The Reds scored only two runs in eighteen innings and lost two games to the Browns.

The White Sox scored two runs in the ninth after two were out to beat the Athletics, 6 to 5.

Dallas has secured Pug Allen, who has been playing with Omaha in the Western league to play in the outfield.

All Set For Shriners Barbecue Tomorrow Night At Play Grounds; Shriners, Bring Your Automobiles

According to plans, the Shrine Club chicken barbecue is going off like an alarm clock; right on the schedule and as per arrangements.

A business meeting was held Tuesday night by the President and executive committee to discuss the transportation question, and it was decided that probably three fourths of the Shriners in Mexia have automobiles and no uneasiness was suffered on the transportation question

As has always been the custom of Shrine affairs, car owners are only too glad to put their car in service and give the noble a lift who does not happen to own a controlling interest in a car.

Every Shriner in the city is requested to park his car on Railroad street near News Publishing Company building and be prepared to leave with the crowd promptly at 6 30 p m Friday afternoon,June 22, if you have room for one more, leave the door open and let the nobles fall in

The Secretary has been in touch with a number of Shriners owning cars and has no doubt, but that every Shriner, will park himself on railroad street around 6:30 next Friday, he will find an open door waiting for him

This is a Shriners affair and one noble needs no introduction to another simply wear the fez and hop in the first car with room for one more

The Mexia Shrine Club has done itself honor by the affairs it has created in the past and has a reputation that reaches far from the boundry lines of Mexia and throughout the great state of Texas, as one of the livest organizations of its kind in the state

We want to keep up that reputation and we are now calling on the nobility to fall in for the chicken barbecue and outing on tomorrow night and we candidly expect every car owner to be there with his car and help take the nobles out who have no way

Special efforts will be made with the city to reserve the block from News Publishing Co down to Commerce Street on Railroad Street, for parking Shriner's cars between the hours of 6 and 6 30 p m

Lend your co operation and help make this unique idea of the Shriners a success in every way.

Big Rattler Is Killed at Longview

LONGVIEW, Texas, June 21—A big rattler, probably seeking refuge from the high waters of the Sabine river was discvered by S. H. Carter at Gum Springs near here.

After a terrific fight the snake was finally killed. At no time did the reptile show a disposition to run but seemed desirous of fighting it out

The snake measured four and a half feet in length and was extremely large around. It had twelve rattles and a button which signified its age was thirteen years.

MAKING BOXING CHAMPIONS BY WHIM

By Paul R Mallon
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, June 21—"When is a champion not a champion?" Ask the New York State Boxing Commission

The board of governors of boxing in New York is practicing a policy of lifting the championship laurel from the head of one boxer and placing upon the brow of another. Thus are champions made in New York They needn't fight. All they have to do is place a forfeit with the commission, wait six months, and if the challenge is not taken up they forthwith become champion of their class.

A champion may be schampion in the state of New Jersey and every other state in the country, and yet a few miles away there would still be another champion of the same class in New York

This was not the purpose for which the law was made. The purpose of this provision was to avoid the old rule of champions dodging fights with contenders they feard. Before boxing regulations were introduced, a champion could refuse to meet any of his chief contenders and thereby retain his title even though he might not be the best man of the class

He still can The law didn't help matters any. It only complicated things.

The commission lifted the title of Mickey Walker because he had failed to answer the forfeit of Dave Shade. The title thereupon was given to Shade. A perfect law would not have permitted this. It would have compelled Walker to meet Shade, and determine which was best. After the order was issued, Walker didn't worry any. He went on fighting in other states under the name of champion. He did just what he pleased outside of New York,

When the commission decreed that Johnny Kilbane was no longer champion because he would not meet Eugene Criqui, it didn't worry Kilbane either. He went on picking up money in other communities as he pleased, and when he got good and ready to fight Criqui he did—and lost his title.

If every state where boxing is permitted had a state commission and these state commissions were bound together as a sort of "court of justice" this old rule could be eliminated and a national policy toward boxing established.

GEYSERS ON THE JOB FOR YELLOWSTONE OPENING

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., June 21.—With the official opening of Yellowstone National Park today, intense activity in the Norris Geyser Basin is reported by rangers. This activiey has culminated in the appearance of a new geyser. Recently this new geyser has been erupting to a height of 75 feet, and there are indications that it may continue to erupt indefinitely at intervals of about twelve hours. Its eruptions are followed by great steam displays and loud roaring.

The Crater Geyser, sometimes called the Mud Geyser, also of recent origin has been very active during the winter and has enlarged its crater

During the spring rangers have been taking note of the famous Semi-Centennial Geyser, fifteen miles south of Mammoth Hot Springs in the Roaring Mountain region, which first erupted with extraordinary violence on August 14, 1922 This Geyser is still inactive and it is uncertain whether it will erupt again this year

In the great Upper Basin where there are more geysers than in all the rest of the world, Old Faithful, Grand Riverside and other tourists' favorites are performing in their usual wonderful fashion.

SEEK METHODS TO WIPE OUT WHITE PLAGUE

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., June 20.—At the opening of the nineteenth annual meeting of the National Tuberculosis Association today, Dr. Lawrason Brown, Saranac Lake, N. Y., president of the association, stated that one of the greatest needs of the tuberculosis campaign is more extensive research for the purpose of discovering a positive cure for tuberculosis. The long search and the scantiness of financial reward have discouraged many brilliant scientists from entering the tuberculosis field.

Dr. Brown declared that "a complete eradication of tuberculosis must follow along one of two lines. First, by vaccination or by some other method which will prevent tuberculosis completely as smallpox is prevented today. If such a method fails; some method of treatment which is as successful as the administering of quinine in malaria must be discovered.

Another possibility is that pulmonary tuberculosos, like leprosy and typhus, will gradually recede until in countries with a high civilization it will be of slight importance."

At the present time public education in disease prevention increased sanatorium facilities, and adequate after care in order to prevent a relapse, are the best available means of still further reducing the mortality and case rates, said the speaker.

"I am convinced," said Dr. Brown, "that in a few years we shall see established in America, in one of the large centers of population such as Chicago, Denver, Cleveland, New York, San Francisco, Los Angeles, a foundation that will do for tuberculosis what the Rockefeller Institute and other foundations are doing for general medicine."

"In our endeavor to find some therapeutic agent that will cure tuberculosis or tend to eliminate certain of its disagreeable symptoms, we are bidding fair to bury the patient under an avalanche of drugs and serums." Dr LeRoy S. Peters, Medical Director of Saint Joseph Sanatorium, Albuquerque, New Mexico, told the physicians in attendance.

"I would like to show," said Dr Peters, "the uselessness of drugs and the advisability of treating tuberculosis by the application of common sense. I shall not attempt to convince the profession that drugs have no place in the treatment of tuberculosis but I wish to argue for their saner application and use."

BIG CUT MADE IN DEATH RATE OF WHITE PLAGUE

SANTA BARBARA, Cal. June 21.—"The decline in the tuberculosis death rate of the last two decades from over 200 per 100,000 population to less than 100 in the registration area of the United States is in large measure to be credited to the organized campaign against tuberculosis which has been carried on by the official and nonofficial agencies during this period," said Dr. Louis I. Dublin of New York before the National Tuberculosis Association here at today's meeting.

Dr. Dublin maintained that the larger part in the decline of the tuberculosis death rate was due directly to factors under man's control and that with the developement of those factors through the anti-tuberculosis and other social agencies, the amount of control over tuberculosis will be greatly increased and the death rate will be subsequently very much lower.

"Not all, but a large part, of the credit for the declining tuberculosis death rate can be assigned to the anti-tuberculosis movement," said Dr. Dublin. "With the continued rise in the level of general intelligence and economic wellbeing, the amount of control over tuberculosis will be increased. What may happen in the future is indicated by the phenomenal drop in the tuberculosis death rate during very recent years, when the standard of living among wage earners rose sharply. Better homes, higher real wages, more time for rest and recreation, and intelligence to utilize to the full these helps to better health, have reduced the tuberculosis death rate of the wage-working population after the war The anti-tuberculosis campaign itself is an index of the higher intelligence and the social conscience which characterizes an advanced civilization.

Application of scientific management to public health work was advocated by John A. Kingsbury of New York, who also announced that the Milbank Fund of which he is a director is completing plans to spend between $300,000 and $500,000 annually for the next five years in New York State in co-operation with the health authorities in an effort to reduce the death rate for all causes.

Cattaraugus County has been selected as typical rural and urban area, and Syracuse as a typical city area in which intensive demonstration will be carried on A district of 200,000 population will also soon be selected in New York City In these three areas of 500,000 population, the Milbank Fund will carry on the largest and broadest health demonstration ever attempted in the United States Commenting upon the plans for the demonstration Kingsbury said:

In the course of the next five or ten years, in these typical American communities, we shall endeavor to determine the extent to which the general death rate can be further reduced and which diseases most readily yield to the intensive efforts which will be exerted; we shall try to determine whether or not it is possible to practically eliminate certain of these diseases, such as diphtheria and typhoid, and to further substantially reduce the extent of tuberculosis; we shall endeavor to determine what it will cost these typical communities to do a hundred per cent health job. We shall attempt to apply scientific management to health work."

Judge Muse Has Plan To Speed Up Court Trials

DALLAS, Texas, June 21—The latest in modern progress as propounded by Judge E. B. Muse would be the use of the phonograph in the keeping court records and court proceedings. This according to Judge Muse would be in the keeping with the remarkable steps taken by modern science in the last few years.

"It would eliminate long drawn out second and third trials, as all that would be necessary would be to start the phonograph and let the judge hear the testimony given in the first trial," the Judge said.

"If the system were introduced into the Dallas courts, it would greatly facilitate time and reduce expenses. There is nothing impracticable in this theory when one thinks of the many who listen to the great Caruso's voice and will continue to do so forever."

Conrad Kissel, also collapsed when he strove to [illegible] from the floor. One by one the guests began to writhe in pain, and they, too, fell to the floor. J. L. Smith Oil Company's Irwin To Set Casing Soon 2 More Producers Are In

E. L. Smith president of the E. L. Smith Oil Company, who is in Powell today reports that just this afternoon that company's number 1 had been completed for 2500 barrels and that the U. S. Tex Burke 2 had joined the producers with 1500 barrels daily.

The Humphreys McKie is expected to connect any minute, if not already in.

Colonel A. E. Humphreys is in the field watching the work on the well.

The E. L. Smith Oil Company's Irwine Number 1 has drilled through the Austin chalk. When completed it will represent an extension of the field of at least a quarter of a mile. Casing will be set Friday.

Five new locations have been made today on the strength of the day's developments.

Northeast

The test being drilled on the W. W. McFall, northeast of town, is today drilling below 520 feet in black gumbo. It was spudded in last Sunday and has been drilling night and day since, with the exception of a two hour shut down.

R. N. Vice stated this morning that he expected to be coring ahead in the Nachitoches sand sometime next week. Every sand penetrated will be tested and if prolific will not be passed up. The Nachitoches sand is expected to be found at around 1400 feet.

The formations encountered so far have been "just right", he says in speaking of the test.

The well will be sent to a depth of 3500 feet, if necessary.

The operators are C. L. Joiner, of Crane, Oregon; J. F. Lent, of Moran, Kansas; R. H. Vice of Denison, Texas; W. F. McAnaney of Denison and George Peyton of this city. E. M. Blue is the contracting driller.

Bennie Reynolds is the head driller, and John Staley is the night driller.

A rotary is being used.

C. G. Franklin, president of the Railway Men's Oil Company of Muskogee, Oklahoma, has been in the field today, looking over the section near the McFall.

W. J. Mann of McAlester, Oklahoma, has also been here in the interests of the E. R. Richards Oil Company of Kansas City.

Mr. Magnolia of Denison has also been an interested visitor to the Northeast wildcat.

[illegible] interest will follow the drill down in the test made, as it will open up a drilling campaign of stupendous proportions should the McFall prove prolific.

POLICE FINDS "CONVICTS" NOT WANTED

Police reserves were summoned by an excited passerby when he saw, as he thought, a policeman being beaten up by three escaped convicts in New York. The bluecoats found, however, that the "escape" had been staged by dignified alumni of Columbia University, making merry near the campus, following the 169th annual commencement of the university. The "convicts" are Messrs. Boorman, Griffen and Hageman, of the Class of 1908, and the "policeman" is L. J. Slade, of the 1909 class. All are prominent business men.

Todd Will Seek Pardon For Son

DALLAS, Texas, June 21.—A pardon for his 19 year old son Wayne, saved from the gallows at the last minute by Governor Neff's action, will be sought by the boy's father, C. T. Todd, of Weatherford. The elder Todd declared his fight "had just begun."

"He was just an irresponsible boy and did not strike the blow that killed James McNeal." Todd said after a visit with his son in the county jail here.

Young Todd, with two other youths, was convicted of the murder of James McNeal, taxi driver in September 1921. Todd was sentenced to hang and the others were given prison sentences.

Governor Neff commuted Todd's sentence to life imprisonment just a few hours before he was to have hanged. The execution had been set for today.

Ten Negroes Die In Chicago Fire

CHICAGO, June 21.—Ten negroes were burned to death and eleven injured, some seriously, when fire destroyed an old fashioned three-story tenement building in the "black belt" today.

A police announcement said nine bodies had been recovered and one man died after being taken from the structure, which, firemen declared, "burned liek a paper box." More than 175 negroes, including many children, weer asleep in the building when flames were discovered. The fire was reported to have started in a second hand store on the ground floor. The proprietor is held by police for questioning. The tenement is located at Twenty-Second and Federal streets.

Rapid progress is being made in cleaning up the Hughes Park site, contributed to Mexia by J. K. Hughes and of which the Ladies Civic league is custodian. The grounds are already assuming a splendid appearance as all rubbish is heaped up and hauled off or burned.

"Blue Eyed" Bandit Posing as Wife Of 1 Husband Another

CHICAGO, June 21.—Fred G. Thompson, alias Mrs. Francis Thompson, identified by the victim's widow as the slayer of Richard C. Tesmer, was declared by police today to be posing as the wife of one man and the husband of a woman known as "Marie Clark."

Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes said that Thompson, arrested in feminine attire as a "blue-eyed, smilling girl bandit," has been playing the dual role for at least two years.

As the "wife" of Frank Thompson, also known as Frank Carrick, Thompson secured exemption for his "husband" in the draft, Hughes asserted. The detective chief also said he possessed evidence that the prisoner also posed as the "Clark woman's husband."

The Mexia Lions club will hold its weekly session at the luncheon hour Friday. A full attendance is urged by President J. I. Riddle. An interesting program is planned. It will be the last meeting before the baseball classic with the Salesmanship club and every Lion is looking forward to that contest with pleasure, as they say that it will be just another opportunity for them to show the Salesmen something new in baseball.

Mr. G. C. Clark has rented the old Looney jewelry shop location and will install a first class barber shop.

Dr. Carrel is one of the world's most famous surgeons and is a former winner of the Nobel Prize for medicine.

Dallas Officers Nab Three Negro Counterfeiters

DALLAS, June 21.—Clarence Weaver, May Bell Weaver and Cecily Suynes, multato negroes, were arrested and complaints filed with United States Commissioner charging the raising of obligations of the United States government. Officials believe they have broken up a gang that flooded North Texas with raised money for some time. An investigation has been under way for six months, and culminated in the arrests.

R. R. Commission Revising Rates

AUSTIN, June 21.—Despite vigorous protests of railways, the State Railroad Commission issued an order revising the live stock rates in less than car lots. The case has been known for years as the "Mayfield Jackass Case." It removed the minimum weight, which heretofore has been four thousand pounds. Minimum charge on any shipment was fixed at five dollars.

Dr. E. D. Shurter of Dallas, organizer of the American Citizenship league, was the principal speaker at the Rotary luncheon today. For many years he was head of the Development of Public Speaking at The University of Texas. Tis address was on "Education for Citizenship."

Representative Of United Press Praises The News

Frank H. Bartholomew, business representative for the United Press in the Southwest Division, spent Wednesday in Mexia with The Mexia Daily News. He was here about a year ago, when The News was located in smaller quarters on Commerce street.

The Southwest division is composed of seven states and headquarters are maintained at Kansas City.

Mr. Bartholomew expressed amazement and pleasure because of the advancement and progress reflected by The Mexia Daily News and by the city of Mexia as well.

He stated that it was his opinion that The Mexia Daily News had developed into the splendid newspaper which it now is with a greater rapidity than any newspaper in the seven states which he covers.

The day was spent studying the press service needs of the News and the result of the conference was a decision that The Mexia Daily News is now getting the very best service available under the conditions and circumstances that prevail.

The United Press is serving newspapers in practically every city in Texas. Its patrons among the afternoon newspapers of the state outnumber any other two press services available in Texas. It is constantly proving in the quality of its service, expanding in its patronage and im- The United Press leads all. It serves The Mexia Daily News.

Entered as second-class matter, February 26, 1919, at the Postoffice at Mexia, Texas, under the act of March 3, 1879.

THE EDITORIAL OF THE DAY

The following editorial was clipped by Cox W. Brodnax, and handed in to the office of the Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber of Commerce does not know its source, but it is said that the Mexia Textile Mills proposition is being kept alive and the mill will be an actuality before the year 1923 closes.

Texas and Its Factories

There is every reason in the world why Texas should turn to manufacturing—not exclusively.

No country has ever remained a dominant factor in world affairs that hasn't developed manufacturing.

In fact, left to a horizontal course, that country is securest that takes manufacturing as her one hoby—even if she must buy every ingredient that goes into the process of manufacturing.

Garet Garrett, writing in Saturday Evening Post on the Ruhr situation, said that "An industrious engenius people, though they have to buy all their raw material, even their food, may still prosper by exporting the products of high technical skill."

But we have found today that the horizontal process of business is hurting us. No longer should we have institutions organized about just raw materials, or finished products; but we should begin that newer and safer course of developing our industries vertically; that is, we should begin with the raw material, say cotton, and not turn it loose until it is in the hands of the distributors. The Ford industry is a splendid example of the vertical process.

What Texas needs is that new approach to business which will organize her industries on a basis of commodities, and then stay with that commodity until it is manufactured into the finished product and ready for the consumer.

Her cotton, her wheat, her cattle, her hogs, her wool, her corn—all her endless raw materials should go to Texas factories and there be prepared for the markets of the world—the markets of finished products. Every coal mine, every river, every available or potential source of power should be harnessed and our peoples should hold on to their raw materials until they are manufactured into the finished products. This would give us that economic empire which would build for permanency and power.

Chambers of Commerce, you have been cajoled to busy yourselves with the little things, and not to try the "big" things, such as a factory, or other city-sized tasks. Let us insist that ten years spent in the chase of a factory that ends in landing the factory is worth more to your town than ten years of picnics, barbecues, swell dinners, street lights, etc.

Let the Chambers of Commerce make this slogan their slogan: "Factories in Texas."

Wild Horses Loose In Arizona Prairies

PHOENIX, Ariz., June 21.—Half a dozen bands of wild horses stampeded the prairies near here today, driving cattle from grazing lands.

Headed by fiery stallions, hordes of horses and burros were reported driving cattle to the mountains.

One herd of 1,000 mustangs invaded the Coconimo national forest. Another, numbering 400, was roving Apache county. Several more were driving cattle and sheep out of the Tail Holt mountains.

Wild burros, shaggy from years of exposure to summer heat and winter storms, abound by hundreds in the mountains near here.

Stockmen here have organized to demand State aid in financing a campaign to wipe out the wild herds.

Corn on the cob is now a favorite dish on Mexia tables. The Roasting Ear crop is rapidly coming to town from fields that look exceptionally good, considering the dry weather.

C. P. Tindley will leave for the Luling field tonight.

Deposed College President May Be In Politics Soon

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., June 21.—Dr. Alexander Meiklejohn, deposed head of Amherst College, may be considered as presidential timber in the search for State University presidential timber, it was indicated here today.

Meiklejohn will be given official consideration if his name is submitted to the University board of regents, a member of the board declared here.

The board of regents is conducting a nation wide search for a conservative educator to succeed Dr. Stratton D. Brooks, resigned, and president-elect of Missouri University, it was stated.

No definite action will be taken for some time, it was indicated.

The Mexia Shrine club will be present in large numbers from the entire section at the Chicken Feast at the Play-grounds Friday evening.

NEW TRIPLE ALLIANCE RUMORED

A new triple alliance of Russia, Japan and Germany is regarded by shrewd observers as a possible outcome of a preliminary official conference to which the Japanese Government will invite Commissioner Adolph Joffe, who was head of the Russian delegation to the Russian-Polish peace conference at Riga and who is Foreign Plenipotentiary of the Russian Soviet Government. Japanese leaders, it is said, are building politically for the future in their negotiations with Russie and Germany. The decision of the Japanese Cabinet to confer with Joffe is regarded as a victory for Baron Shimpei Goto, former Mayor of Tokio, who resigned that office in order to urge an economic conference and agreement with the Soviet.

American Red Cross Restores Roses to Cheeks of Children Who Were Once Doomed to Die

They are not prize-winning children, perhaps, judged by American standards, but their mothers are proud of them and proud of the fact that they are being photographed by an American Red Cross worker in Seres. Seres is in Macedonia and the children are only a few of the refugees who are housed in the flimsy barracks there and fed by the American Red Cross.

It is doubtful if there would be any youngsters visible were it not that America had come to the rescue and sent to Greece great quantities of American milk. It's the milk that makes the little boys' legs look so chubby and gives the little girls their plump cheeks.

And it isn't in Seres alone, but all through Greece and the islands that dot the Aegean, that babies' lives have been saved and mothers have been made to smile again, not by twos and threes but by thousands and by tens of thousands. During the winter and early spring the American Red Cross was feeding in Greece no less than 500,000 refugees from Anatolia and Eastern Thrace, mostly women and children. Not all of them would have actually starved without this feeding but in a case like this it is better to err on the side of safety. The older members of the family got such solid food as bread and beans, rice and corn grits, but for the babies there was milk—that was the most highly appreciated gift of all.

The refugees, a million of them all told, came to Greece following the burning of Smyrna and the defeat of the Greek armies last fall. Some of them were able to take care of themselves from the start. Some have since managed to reestablish themselves. It is summer in Greece now. There are vegetables in the gardens and grain is ripening in the fields. The crisis of the emergency has passed. The American Red Cross will end its Greek program on June 30 and in withdrawing will carry back to America the gratitude of the entire Greek nation.

GEYSERS ON THE JOB FOR YELLOWSTONE OPENING

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., June 21.—With the official opening of Yellowstone National Park today, intense activity in the Norris Geyser Basin is reported by rangers. This activiey has culminated in the appearance of a new geyser. Recently this new geyser has been erupting to a height of 75 feet, and there are indications that it may continue to erupt indefinitely at intervals of about twelve hours. Its eruptions are followed by great steam displays and loud roaring.

The Crater Geyser, sometimes called the Mud Geyser, also of recent origin has been very active during the winter and has enlarged its crater.

During the spring rangers have been taking note of the famous Semi-Centennial Geyser, fifteen miles south of Mammoth Hot Springs in the Roaring Mountain region, which first erupted with extraordinary violence on August 14, 1922. This Geyser is still inactive and it is uncertain whether it will erupt again this year.

In the great Upper Basin where there are more geysers than in all the rest of the world, Old Faithful, Grand, Riverside and other tourists' favorites are performing in their usual wonderful fashion.

Thrashers are busy in the county on the oat crop of the year. A machine was at June Cogdell's this week. The farmers are in dire need of rain according to late reports. City Manager George Perkins also states that the dry weather is a handicap to the paving company, especially in setting forms for the curbs. Mr. Perkins is abel to be out this week, despite the heat, after an attack of appendicitis which got him down last week.

F. J. Crabtree of Midlothian who has been attending S. M. U. the past year was visiting in Mexia today. He left on the afernoon train for his home. Next school session, Mr. Crabtree expects to enter the School of Journalism in the University of Texas and will receive his degree there.

Savannah Is Now under Martial Law

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 21.—Under control of a strict military government, Savannah was quiet today following rioting in which one was killed. The clashes started Tuesday night when a mob attempted to secure a negro, arrested on charges of attacking a white woman, from custoday of jail officials.

Every road leading to the city is guarded by armed militiamen. Soldiers with fixed bayonets patrol the section around the pail.

Temporary breastworks, surmounted by machine guns, are in place.

Walter Lee, the accused negro, was positively identified by his victim. He was picked by the woman from a group of half dozen suspects.

Germany Protests against Severe Measure in Ruhr

By Carl D. [illegible]
By CARL D. GROAT.
United Perss Staff Correspendent.

BERLIN, June 21.—Germany today sent a protest to the allies against severe measures of repression instituted by the Fernch in the Ruhr valley.

The German protest followed announcement from Dusseldorf that General De Coutte and other French and Belgian authorities are working out a scheme whereby all industries of the invaded areas turning out reparations material will be confiscated and worked by forced labor. Iron and steel plants, metal works, mines, coke ovens and other private industries are to be seized under the scheme and Germans forced to work them or go to jail.

Mrs. Wilmer Hamilton entertained a number of her griends with a most delightful all day picnic on Tuesday at the Reunion Grounds. Every detail that would lend to the enjoyment of such an occasion was carried out.

LADY JUMPS FROM MOVING CAR WITH BABY IN HER ARMS

Last night while returning from the Reunion Grounds, about eleven o'clock, a party of young folks met a car from which a woman had attempted to alight, holding a babe in her arms. Her husband was accompauying her in the automobile and it seems that she feared an accident and jumped from the auto while it was in motion. The baby was uninjured but the lady suffered minor injuries. She was carried to Brown's horspital where she is being treated today.

Ford May Enter Oil Industry

Drillers, tool-dressers, oil field workers, pipe liners and pump station men, tank builders, refiners and marketers and those interested or engaged in the oil and gasoline industry, Hats off to Henry Ford! Henry Ford, having become a coal baron, a railroad owner, a maker of automobiles, trucks annd tractors, a water power developer, a publisher, also farmer, is now about to go into the textile field and manufacture all fabrics used in the manufacture of automobiles, but the best news to the oil people in general, not including the Standard oil group, is that Henry Ford, Ford Motor Company, are scouting the oil fields for samples of oil, which is being sent to the Ford engineering laboratory at Detroit, Mich. The Ford Motor Company is investigating the oil business with the fact in view of producing, transporting, refining and marketing gasoline, motor, cylinder and lubricating oils of a higher and better quality than the Standard oil and subsidary companies. Motor cars used 5300 million of 5961 million gollons of gasoline consumed in the United States in 1922—441 gallons to the car.

"Come Over Into Macedonia And Help Us," Echo of Age-Old Cry, Answered by American Red Cross

The old cry, "Come over into Macedonia and help us," voiced in the days of St. Paul, had an echo last year when refugees from Eastern Thrace poured across the Macedonian border, helpless, homeless, sick and facing death from cold and hunger. That the cry was not unheeded these pictures, of barges laden with bales of blankets bound Macedoniaward from the Piraeus and this typical youngster hugging the precious can of milk, a gift of the American Red Cross, clearly testify.

What they can not show, however, is the magnitude of the American effort and the highly beneficient results attained by the Red Cross workers in meeting the emergency not only in Macedonia but in the whole Grecian peninsula and the dozens of scattered islands of the Aegean and Ionian seas.

Measured in cash merely, the cost of America's contribution through its national organization for disaster and emergency relief, the American Red Cross, was $2,600,000. With that sum half a million refugees were fed, not occasionally, but day in and day out for months, hospitals were opened, equipped, and supervised by American doctors and American nurses, blankets were distributed, and clothing, milk for the babies born in the turmoil of the great hegira and for their mothers, weakened by the hardships of their enforced wanderings.

It is hard to estimate what this help meant to Greece. One can only cite examples here and there, taking the word of the Greeks themselves. "On the day before the arrival of the first Red Cross shipments of food products ten refugees died from starvation here. Without the American aid this situation would have continued. Since the arrival of the first American Red Cross products there have been no deaths from starvation." (In this case "here" is the city of Aigion where there were 8,000 refugees being fed, and not only fed but clothed, for the report continues:) "Before the distribution of American Red Cross blankets many refugees were lying on the cold, bare, dirt floors of buildings in which they had been quartered. As a result there was much pneumonia and rheumatism. The American Red Cross was able to supply enough blankets to every one of these ground-sleepers to afford them sufficient covering and the illness due to colds decreased rapidly."

From other towns come reports of typhus and smallpox threatening to become epidemic but checked by prompt disinfection of refugees and by extensive vaccination campaigns, of sanitary measures enforced, of infant welfare stations opened, of American health ideals inculcated in people whose lack of knowledge of the simplest principles of hygiene rendered their very presence a deadly menace to the cities in which they had crowded themselves.

From the very day of the destruction of Smyrna last September the American Red Cross has worked unceasingly in combatting the effects of the wave of a million refugees which swept over Greece, as an aftermath of that disaster and the catastrophic defeat of Greek arms. It met the emergency as an emergency. It does not propose that those it has aided should be pauperized and become a permanent burden upon American charity. Therefore, its emergency relief program will be brought to a close on June 30. By that time the gardens of Greece will be yielding their increase, the harvest will be ripe for the sickle and another chapter in the history of American philanthropy will end.

"SCHOOL FOR CONGRESS" PLANNED.

Senator William H. King

Some ironical individuals will say it is needed, but Senator William H. King, Democrat, of Utah, had a different idea in mind in announcing a "Summer School" for members of Congress, in Russia, in July. King, with Senator Ladd, Republican, of North Dakota, and Representative Frear, Republican, of Wisconsin, will leave in another six weeks to open the school, the object of which is to obtain first-hand information on the Soviet method of government and business. All ther Senators and Congressmen have been invited to enroll.

MARLIN WINS HARD FOUGHT BALL GAME

The Marlin Bathers won a hard fought game from the Gushers yesterday by the score of 2 to 1. Tiner worked fine whiffing 5 of the Bathers while Gresset only whiffed 3. Chatham, centerfielder of the Bathers secured three of the Bathers hits scoring the first and his single in the ninth with Strickland on scored the winning run. Strickland lined out to Geppert who caught the ball a few inches above the ground but was called safe by the Umps and then—there was quite a bit of dension, regarding the Umps' decisions all during the game, and it is understood that a player of each team will umpire today's game.

Greek Operation of American Red Cross Is Model of Efficiency For Conduct of Large Scale Relief Work at Long Range

When the American Red Cross withdraws its relief forces from Greece, this summer, it will have established a record for effective emergency relief. Its operations which involved the feeding of 500,000 refugees from Anatolia and Eastern Thrace and the supplying of the medical needs of a million destitute and homeless people are too large to be easily grasped. The photographs above shows the loading of American Red Cross ships at Piraeus for transshipment to Greek Islands, and some of the Red Cross supplies duly delivered to the ultimate consumer.

The scope of the work can be better illustrated by a summary of accomplishments in a particular district, typical of the operation of the relief program throughout the entire Grecian peninsula and the islands surrounding it. Patras district, where American Red Cross work was directed by Henry C. Wolfe of Coshocton, Ohio and the medical services of the program by Dr. J. C. Dolman of El Paso, Texas, affords such an illustration.

Through the months of January, February, March and April the American Red Cross was feeding, in the Patras District alone, 40,000 refugees and on May 1 that number was increased to 43,000 owing to recent arrivals.

The organization has completely furnished and equipped eight refugee hospitals in the district with a total capacity of 325 beds.

It has opened and is operating three ambulatoria at the towns of Zante, Patras and Argostoli. These ambulatoria treat, on an average, between 400 and 500 refugees daily. Medicines have also been supplied to the smaller refugee centers throughout the district.

Three milk stations for babies are in operation in the towns above mentioned, feeding about 1,000 babies a day.

The typhus epidemic, which threatened to become serious has been brought under control and at the beginning of May there were only a few remaining cases in the district.

Every refugee has been vaccinated and the campaign to inoculate the refugees against typhoid and cholera has been started.

Ten Greek doctors are in the employ of the American Red Cross in the district as well as about 50 nurses and hospital attendants. The medical program has been organized so that it can continue to function after the Americans withdraw.

Twenty-five thousand refugees have been bathed and deloused at the American Red Cross bathing plants and their clothing fumigated.

Ten thousand refugees have been clothed and ten thousand have been supplied with blankets.

Thousands of pamphlets giving advice on how to avoid sickness have been distributed among the refugees of the district and posters dealing with various phases of the sanitary program have been posted in prominent places in the towns and villages.

Camp sanitation has been emphasized and enforced.

Brindell in Solitary Confinement Now

Robert P. Brindell, of New York, former head of the Building Trades Council, sentenced to Sing Sing for five years for extortion from contractors and graft, is now in solitary confinement at Dannemora Prison, to which he was taken in irons after it was learned that he had been keeping clandestine meetings with members of his family outside the prison at Sing Sing. Dannemora, known as the "Siberia of America", is ruled with an iron hand. An investigation of prison liberties at Sing Sing has begun.

Bobby Jones, youthful golf star, has announced that he will not defend his title in the Southern golf tourney to be held soon.

Jack Dempsey says that Tommie Gibbons style of fighting will, without a doubt, puzzle him, but he erlieves that he will be able to find a weak spot somewhere.

At present there is little chance of the Texas league having a split seaosn because the four leading clubs are in a range of about two games of each other. Ira Thomas is the only one who would be in favor of a split season as his club isn't going so very good at present.

One of Jacks sparring partners, who left the champions quarters, and has taken up his work with Tommie, says that Jack hits a lot harder but not as often as Gibbons.

Pancho Villa, the little Filipino, knocked the little Welshman, Jimmie Wilde, for a championship at the Polo Grounds Monday night before a crowd of at least 40,000 people.

Lew Tendler, contender for the lightweight crown held by Benny Leonard, defeated Pal Moran of New Orleans in an eight round bout Monday night at the Nationadl League ball park in Philadelphia.

"Snipe" Conley was effective with men on bases and his teamates helped him with 15 solid swats, Dallas winning from Galveston 10 to 2.

With the bases full and only two runs needed to tie the score, Calvo, Fort Worth, center fileder, made a spectacular catch of a low line drive for the last out. Beaumont lost, 6 to 8.

The Reds scored only two runs in eighteen innings and lost two games to the Browns.

The White Sox scored two runs in the ninth after two were out to beat the Athletics, 6 to 5.

Dallas has secured Pug Allen, who has been playing with Omaha in the Western league to play in the outfield. Allen is a hard hitter and a neat outfielder.

Stump Eddington, now a Cat had a perfect day at bat Tuesday against his old team mates, the Beaumont Exporters. He walked the first two times up and got three doubles and a single in the next four times. Fort Worth won 11 to 4.

All Set For Shriners Barbecue Tomorrow Night At Play Grounds; Shriners, Bring Your Automobiles

According to plans, the Shrine Club chicken barbecue is going off like an alarm clock; right on the schedule and as per arrangements.

A business meeting was held Tuesday night by the President and executive committee to discuss the transportation question, and it was decided that probably three fourths of the Shriners in Mexia have automobiles and no uneasiness was suffered on the transportation question.

As has always been the custom of Shrine affairs, car owners are only too glad to put their car in service and give the noble a lift who does not happen to own a controlling interest in a car.

Every Shriner in the city is requested to park his car on Railroad street near News Publishing Company building and be prepared to leave with the crowd promptly at 6:30 p.m. Friday afternoon,June 22; if you have room for one more, leave the door open and let the nobles fall in.

The Secretary has been in touch with a nnumber of Shriners owning cars and has no doubt, but that every Shriner will park himself on railroad street around 6:30 next Friday, he will find an open door waiting for him.

This is a Shriners affair and one noble needs no introduction to another, simply wear the fez and hop in the first car with room for one more.

The Mexia Shrine Club has done itself honor by the affairs it has created in the past and has a reputation that reaches far from the boundry lines of Mexia and throughout the great state of Texas, as one of the livest organizations of its kind in the state.

We want to keep up that reputation and we are now calling on the nobility to fall in for the chicken barbecue and outing on tomorrow night and we candidly expect every car owner to be there with his car and help take the nobles out who have no way.

Special efforts will be made with the city to reserve the block from News Publishing Co. down to Commerce Street on Railroad Street, for parking Shriner's cars between the hours of 6 and 6:30 p.m.

Lend your co-operation and help make this unique idea of the Shriners a success in every way.

Big Rattler Is Killed at Longview

LONGVIEW, Texas, June 21—A big rattler, probably seeking refuge from the high waters of the Sabine river was discvered by S. H. Carter at Gum Springs near here.

After a terrific fight the snake was finally killed. At no time did the reptile show a disposition to run but seemed desirous of fighting it out.

The snake measured four and a half feet in length and was extremely large around. It had twelve rattles and a button which signified its age was thirteen years.

MAKING BOXING CHAMPIONS BY WHIM

By Paul R. Mallon
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, June 21.—"When is a champion not a champion?" Ask the New York State Boxing Commission.

The board of governors of boxing in New York is practicing a policy of lifting the championship laurel from the head of one boxer and placing upon the brow of another. Thus are champions made in New York. They needn't fight. All they have to do is place a forfeit with the commission, wait six months, and if the challenge is not taken up they forthwith become champion of their class.

A champion may be schampion in the state of New Jersey and every other state in the country, and yet a few miles away there would still be another champion of the same class in New York.

This was not the purpose for which the law was made. The purpose of this provision was to avoid the old rule of champions dodging fights with contenders they feard. Before boxing regulations were introduced, a champion could refuse to meet any of his chief contenders and thereby retain his title even though he might not be the best man of the class.

He still can. The law didn't help matters any. It only complicated things.

The commission lifted the title of Mickey Walker because he had failed to answer the forfeit of Dave Shade. The title thereupon was given to Shade. A perfect law would not have permitted this. It would have compelled Walker to meet Shade, and determine which was best. After the order was issued, Walker didn't worry any. He went on fighting in other states under the name of champion. He did just what he pleased outside of New York.

When the commission decreed that Johnny Kilbane was no longer champion because he would not meet Eugene Criqui, it didn't worry Kilbane either. He went on picking up money in other communities as he pleased, and when he got good and ready to fight Criqui he did—and lost his title.

If every state where boxing is permitted had a state commission and these state commissions were bound together as a sort of "court of justice" this old rule could be eliminated and a national policy toward boxing established.

GEYSERS ON THE JOB FOR YELLOWSTONE OPENING

YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo., June 21.—With the official opening of Yellowstone National Park today, intense activity in the Norris Geyser Basin is reported by rangers. This activiey has culminated in the appearance of a new geyser. Recently this new geyser has been erupting to a height of 75 feet, and there are indications that it may continue to erupt indefinitely at intervals of about twelve hours. Its eruptions are followed by great steam displays and loud roaring.

The Crater Geyser, sometimes called the Mud Geyser, also of recent origin has been very active during the winter and has enlarged its crater.

During the spring rangers have been taking note of the famous Semi-Centennial Geyser, fifteen miles south of Mammoth Hot Springs in the Roaring Mountain region, which first erupted with extraordinary violence on August 14, 1922. This Geyser is still inactive and it is uncertain whether it will erupt again this year.

In the great Upper Basin where there are more geysers than in all the rest of the world, Old Faithful, Grand, Riverside and other tourists' favorites are performing in their usual wonderful fashion.

EEK METHODS TO WIPE OUT WHITE PLAGUE

SANTA BARBARA, Cal., June 20.—At the opening of the nineteenth annual meeting of the National Tuberculosis Association today, Dr. Lawrason Brown, Saranac Lake, N. Y., president of the association, stated that one of the greatest needs of the tuberculosis campaign is more extensive research for the purpose of discovering a positive cure for tuberculosis. The long search and the scantiness of financial reward have discouraged many brilliant scientists from entering the tuberculosis field.

Dr. Brown declared that "a complete eradication of tuberculosis must follow along one of two lines. First, by vaccination or by some other method which will prevent tuberculosis completely as smallpox is prevented today. If such a method fails, some method of treatment which is as successful as the administering of quinine in malaria must be discovered.

Another possibility is that pulmonary tuberculosos, like leprosy and typhus, will gradually recede until in countries with a high civilization it will be of slight importance.".

At the present time public education in disease prevention increased canatorium facilities, and adequate after care in order to prevent a relapse, are the best available means of still further reducing the mortality and case rates, said the speaker.

"I am convinced," said Dr. Brown, "that in a few years we shall see established in America, in one of the large centers of population such as Chicago, Denver, Cleveland, New York, San Francisco, Los Angeles, a foundation that will do for tuberculosis what the Rockefeller Institute and other foundations are doing for general medicine."

"In our endeavor to find some therapeutic agent that will cure tuberculosis or tend to eliminate certain of its disagreeable symptoms, we are bidding fair to bury the patient under an avalanche of drugs and serums," Dr. LeRoy S. Peters, Medical Director of Saint Joseph Sanatorium, Albuquerque, New Mexico, told the physicians in attendance.

"I would like to show," said Dr. Peters, "the uselessness of drugs and the advisability of treating tuberculosis by the application of common sense. I shall not attempt to convince the profession that drugs have no place in the treatment of tuberculosis but I wish to argue for their saner application and use."

"Uneducated laborers," said farmer, "earn an average of $500 per year for forty years, or $40,000 College graduate life. High school graduates earn an average of $1,000 per year for forty years, or $40,000, College graduateh earn an average of $2,220 per year for forty years, or $88,800.

BIG CUT MADE IN DEATH RATE OF WHITE PLAGUE

SANTA BARBARA, Cal. June 21.—"The decline in the tuberculosis death rate of the last two decades from over 200 per 100,000 population to less than 100 in the registration area of the United States is in large measure to be credited to the organized campaign against tuberculosis which has been carried on by the official and nonofficial agencies during this period," said Dr. Louis I. Dublin of New York before the National Tuberculosis Association here at today's meeting.

Dr. Dublin maintained that the larger part in the decline of the tuberculosis death rate was due directly to factors under man's control and that with the developement of these factors through the anti-tuberculosis and other social agencies, the amount of control over tuberculosis will be greatly increased and the death rate will be subsequently very much lower.

"Not all, but a large part, of the credit for the declining tuberculosis death rate can be assigned to the anti-tuberculosis movement," said Dr. Dublin. "With the continued rise in the level of general intelligence and ecoromic wellbeing, the amount of control over tuberculosis will be increased. What may happen in the future is indicated by the phenomenal drop in the tuberculosis death rate during very recent years, when the standard of living among wage earners rose sharply. Better homes, higher real wages, more time for rest and recreation, and intelligence to utilize to the full these helps to better health, have reduced the tuberculosis death rate of the wage-working population after the war. The anti-tuberculosis campaign itself is an index of the higher intelligence and the social conscience which characterizes an advanced civilization.

Application of scientific management to public health work was advocated by John A. Kingsbury of New York, who also announced that the Milbank Fund of which he is a director is completing plans to spend between $300,000 and $500,000 annually for the next five years in New York State in co-operation with the health authorities in an effort to reduce the death rate for all causes.

Cattaraugus County has been selected as typical rural and urban area. and Syracuse as a typical city area in which intensive demonstration will be carried on. A district of 200,000 population will also soon be selected in New York City. In these three areas of 500,000 population, the Milbank Fund will carry on the largest and broadest health demonstration ever attempted in the United States. Commenting upon the plans for the demonstration Kingsbury said:

In the course of the next five or ten years, in these typical American communities, we shall endeavor to determine the extent to which the general death rate can be further reduced and which diseases most readily yield to the intensive efforts which will be exerted; we shall try to determine whether or not it is possible to practically eliminate certain of these diseases, such as diphtheria and typhoid, and to further substantially reduce the extent of tuberculosis; we shall endeavor to determine what it will cost these typical communities to do a hundred per cent health job. We shall attempt to apply scientific management to health work."

Judge Muse Has Plan To Speed Up Court Trials

DALLAS, Texas, June 21—The latest in modern progress as propounded by Judge E. B. Muse would be the use of the phonograph in the keeping court records and court proceedings. This according to Judge Muse would be in the keeping with the remarkable steps taken by modern science in the last few years.

"It would eliminate long drawn out second and third trials, as all that would be necessary would be to start the phonograph and let the judge hear the testimony given in the first trial," the Judge said.

"If the system were introduced into the Dallas courts, it would greatly faciliate time and reduce expenses. There is nothing impracticable in this theory when one thinks of the many who listen to the great Caruso's voice and will continue to do so forever."

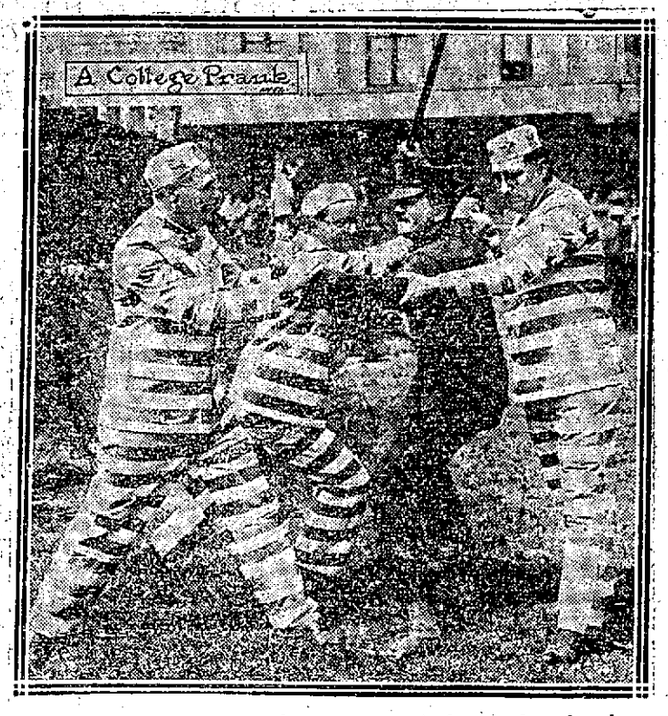
POISON FELLS MANY AT WEDDING

Mr. & Mrs. Conrad Kissel.

Mrs. Mary O'Donnell Kissel, 21, a bride of a few hours, collapsed while responding to a toast proposed by a guest at the wedding feast in New York, for husband. Conrad Kissel, also collapsed when he strove to lift her from the floor. One by one the guests began to writhe in pain, and, they, too, fell to the floor. Physicians attended the bride and groom and thirty-two of their guests and said that tainted chicken salad had poisoned them. All subsequently recovered.

POLICE FINDS "CONVICTS" NOT WANTED



Police reserves were summoned by an excited passerby when he saw, as he thought, a policeman being beaten up by three escaped convicts in New York. The bluecoats found, however, that the "escape" had been staged by dignified alumni of Columbia University, making merry near the campus, following the 169th annual commencement of the university. The "convicts" are Messrs. Boorman, Griffen and Hageman, of the Class of 1908, and the "policeman" is L. J. Slade, of the 1909 class. All are prominent business men.

"Blue Eyed" Bandit Posing as Wife Of 1 Husband Another

CHICAGO, June 21.—Fred G. Thompson, alias Mrs. Francis Thompson, identified by the victim's widow as the slayer of Richard C. Tesmer, was declared by police today to be posing as the wife of one man and the husband of a woman known as "Marie Clark."

Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes said that Thompson, arrested in feminine attire as a "blue-eyed, smiliing girl bandit," has been playing the dual role for at least two years.

As the "wife" of Frank Thompson, also known as Frank Carrick, Thompson secured exemption for his "husband" in the draft, Hughes asserted. The detective chief also said he possessed evidence that the prisoner also posed as the "Clark woman's husband."

The Mexia Lions club will hold its weekly session at the luncheon hour Friday. A full attendance is urged by President J. I. Riddle. An interesting program is planned. It will be the last meeting before the baseball classic with the Salesmanship club and every Lion is looking forward to that contest with pleasure, as they say that it will be just another opportunity for them to show the Salesmen something new in baseball.

Mr. G. C. Clark has rented the old Looney jewelry shop location and will install a first class barber shop.

DALLAS, June 21.—Clarence Weaver, May Bell Weaver and Cecily Saynes, multato negroes, were arrested and complaints filed with United States Commissioner charging the raising of obligations of the United States government. Officials believe they have broken up a gang that flooded North Texas with raised money for some time. An investigation has been under way for six months, and culminated in the arrests.

Five new locations have been made today on the strength of the day's developments.

Northeast

The test being drilled on the W. W. McFall, northeast of town, is today drilling below 520 feet in black gumbo. It was spudded in last Sunday and has been drilling night and day since, with the exception of a two hour shut down.

R. N. Vice stated this morning that he expected to be coring ahead in the Nachitoches sand sometime next week. Every sand penetrated will be tested and if prolific will not be passed up. The Nachitoches sand is expected to be found at around 1400 feet.

The formations encountered so far have been "just right", he says in speaking of the test.

The well will be sent to a depth of 3500 feet, if necessary.

The operators are C. L. Joiner, of Crane, Oregon; J. F. Lent, of Moran, Kansas; R. H. Vice of Denison, Texas; W. F. McAnaney of Denison and George Peyton of this city.

E. M. Blac is the contracting driller.

Bennie Reynolds is the head driller, and John Staley is the night driller.

A rotary is being used.

C. G. Franklin, president of the Railway Men's Oil Company of Muskogee, Oklahoma, has been in the field today, looking over the section near the McFall.

W. J. Mann of McAlester, Oklahoma, has also been here in the interests of the E. R. Richards Oil Company of Kansas City.

Mr. Magnolia of Denison has also been an interested visiter to the Northeast wildcat.

[illegible] interest will follow the drill down in the test made, as it will open up a drilling campaign of stupendous proportions should the McFall prove prolific.

Todd Will Seek Pardon For Son

DALLAS, Texas, June 21.—A pardon for his 19 year old son Wayne, saved from the gallows at the last minute by Governor Neff's action, will be sought by the boy's father, C. T. Todd, of Weatherford. The elder Todd declared his fight "had just begun."

"He was just an irresponsible boy and did not strike the blow that killed James McNeal." Todd said after a visit with his son in the county jail here.

Young Todd, with two other youths, was convicted of the murder of James McNeal, taxi driver in September 1921. Todd was sentenced to hang and the others were given prison sentences.

Governor Neff commuted Todd's sentence to life imprisonment just a few hours before he was to have hanged. The execution had been set for today.

Ten Negroes Die In Chicago Fire

CHICAGO, June 21.—Ten negroes were burned to death and eleven injured, some seriously, when fire destroyed an old fashioned three-story tenement building in the "black belt" today.

A police announcement said nine bodies had been recovered and one man died after being taken from the structure, which, firemen declared, "burned liek a paper box." More than 175 negroes, including many children, weer asleep in the building when flames were discovered. The fire was reported to have started in a second hand store on the ground floor. The proprietor is held by police for questioning. The tenement is located at Twenty-Second and Federal streets.

Rapid progress is being made in cleaning up the Hughes Park site, contributed to Mexia by J. K. Hughes and of which the Ladies Civic league is custodian. The grounds are already assuming a splendid appearance as all rubbish is heaped up and hauled off or burned.
